MAIN STREET TO HOST PARK CITY'S TOP SUMMER EVENTS
Calendar of Summer Events Announced

PARK CITY, UTAH (June 1, 2011) – The Historic District is home to many of Park City's popular summer events, and the lineup of 2011 activities continues to be the "main attraction" in Park City this season. Park City's largest festivals and community events are hosted in the Historic District every year, including the Park City Kimball Arts Festival, the West's longest-running art festival. The Historic Park City Alliance (HPCA) has announced the calendar of summer 2011 events for the Historic District and is sure to be another crowd-pleasing season in Park City.

"Historic Park City is a staple for locals and visitors," explained Alison Butz, Executive Director of the HPCA. "It's an ideal setting to host large events and accommodate a lot of foot traffic. Park Silly Sunday Market

Celebrating its fifth year on Historic Main Street, the Park Silly Sunday Market is an eco-friendly, open-air market and street festival. The Market features regional and local one-of-a-kind finds, gourmet foods and farmers' market fruits and vegetables.
